About me

A proud life-long nerd, I grew up with a 386, and taught myself BASIC in the 5th grade, computers have always been a passion of mine. I have always sought to combine my other passions, like gaming, sports and art in to my love of technology. My love of gaming has taught me creative problem solving and teamwork, as a long time WoW Guild Leader, and Dungeon Master of several D&D Campaigns. Combined with my bakery and customer service experience this has taught me to speak many technical languages, and communicate with people at different levels of understanding to assure everyone's needs are met.
